

YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU

by Lisa Gillespie

Information Person:

Scanner Person:

Passenger:

Loudspeaker Voice:

The passenger enters carrying a lot of "stuff". He/she looks around in a confused manner - finally setting down all of the "stuff" and crossing over to the Information Person. He/she stands there looking at the Information Person expectantly. The Information Person is checking a clip board finally looks up at the Passenger.

IP: May I help you?

P: Yes, I was looking for the ticket counter.

IP: We don't have one.

P: What do you mean, you don't have one?

IP: I mean..(pauses)...we don't have one.

P: But, where do I pay for additional baggage?

IP: Well, sir (mam), none of our passengers are allowed to carry baggage at all.

P: Not even a carry on?

IP: Not even a carry on.

P: But what about all of my "stuff"? I can't leave it behind!

IP: Well, I'm afraid you'll have to - please dispose of all of your personal belongings and step over to the scanner please.

Information Person directs Passenger to the scanner area pass-through gate.

Loudspeaker: Will all passengers please make their way to the security check scanning area. All passengers to the security check scanning area. Thank You.

Passenger is still carrying all of his/her "stuff". Passenger passes through the scanner and the buzzer sounds.

SP: Excuse me, but you'll have to leave all of those things behind.
